DENBY GETS GRILLING
Assumes Blame in Oil Transfer States He and Not Fall Had Idea for Giving Reserve to Interior Officials
Ex-Secretary Fails to Recall Having Consulted About Doherty Naval Deal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (P)—Summoned back from the retirement into which he went under fire at the height of the Senate oil inquiry, Edwin S. Denby, one-time Secretary of the Navy, became today a target for the naval oil reserves to the Interior Department and the Navy's oil inquiry.

On the stand as a witness for the defense, he had to tell the jury that he himself, not Interior Secretary Fall, first suggested transfer of the naval oil reserves to the Interior Department and that he satisfied himself of the worth of the Elk Hills oil reserve to Edward L. Doherty before he approved it.

Beginning the cross-examination, Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts took the former Secretary again over the details of the leasing negotiations and over and over the witness replied "I don't know" or "I don't recall."

When asked by the defense what he had consulted about the matter
under discussion and the witness said he had consulted about the transfer of the oil reserves to the Interior Department and that he had approved the transfer.

Denby testified three years ago before the technical director of the Interior Department.

Denby testified that he had consulted about the matter under discussion and the witness said he had oil reserves to the Interior Department and that he had approved the

Gen. Andrews Reveals to House Deadly Workings in Plea for Funds
Members Assented Bitterly Divided on Request for $11,990,000 to Halt Sale

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A story almost as weird and amazing as a romantic narrative of intrigue, murder and personal daring in the middle west came light here today when the prosecution House appropriations committee report on prohibition enforcement was submitted with the heretofore confidential testimony of Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of the department's dry laws unit.

The fact that members of Congress are bitterly divided on the proposal to give the enforcement unit $11,990,000 to carry on its operations, and are more acrimoniously at odds on the request of Gen. Andrews for an increase in his secret service fund from $250,000 to $500,000 cannot possibly overshadow the interesting details of prohibition enforcement operations given to the committee by the Assistant Secretary.

Enforcement agents in rags, in Senatorial regalia, as men about town as members of exclusive clubs and all working in peril of their lives—were discussed. Much of the story is grim, some of it is amusing, all of it is gripping.

Millions of bootleggers, jealous of their prestige and retiring in comfort on the proceeds of their lawless activities, bribe, intimidate, corrupt, smuggle, and otherwise play their part in the recalcitrant of prohibition.

Gen. Andrews told the committee that his department is after the "big fellows"—the operators who have virtually unlimited means and who employ many others for the purpose of the various channels leading to the consumer.

Asked by Chairman Madden of the Appropriations Committee to explain why he asked for $500,000 for the enforcement unit, Gen. Andrews replied:
"To get evidence for the purpose of putting out of business the bootleggers who are variously known as the operators who direct bribery of government officials and police officials of the cities and of customers of the bootleggers." Gen. Andrews said that it is that organized business that we are after.

What importance to the nation who manufacture ten gallons of moonshine and peddle it through his neighborhood is a social evil in that community, but these organized gangs are undermining the business and the social structure of the country.

SALM ADMITS EASY LIFE ON MONEY GIVEN BY WIFE
Count on Stand Reveals Details of Financial Benefits but Proves Hazy on Marriage Date

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (P)—Count Ludwig Salm Hoog-straten couldn't remember the date of his marriage to Millicent Rogers, Standard Oil heiress, when he took the stand in his separation action today, but he told in detail of financial benefits which derived to him from the ceremony. Under a rattling fire of personal questions by counsel for his wife, the Count told how a penniless nobleman who married an American heiress could maintain himself in ease without work, even after his wife abandoned him.

Several times during the ordeal the Count, a dashing figure in formal attire, completely lost his composure
and the opposing attorneys shouted at each other as if physical conflict were the only possible sequel.

The high point of the day's session was reached with the introduction of three long letters from the Countess to her mother-in-law, in which she repeatedly expressed her love for the Count and the hope that her expected child would serve as an agent of peace between her husband and her father, Henry H. Rogers, who withheld his approval of the match.

BUMPUS STARTS
Soon after Count Salm went on the stand Albert Conway, counsel for the Countess, asked him when he was married. The Count seemed hazy on the subject and Conway appealed to the judge to silence asserted coaching by plaintiff's counsel. An argument ensued which seemed likely to embroil all concerned in the case.

What was the date of your marriage? Conway asked. The Count leaped forward, snarling at the witness chair, his face red with anger.
"I don't know," he shouted back ever louder than the questioner.

RICHARDSON WILL MAKE WORLD TRIP
Tour Announcement Ends Speculation About Plans for Governor's Future

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 8. (P)—Announcement as to what Gov. Richardson intends to do when his term ends, January 3, were set at rest today in an official statement, announcing that Gov. and Mrs. Richardson and their son, John, will embark shortly after that date on a trip around the world.
Already, says the statement, "the floor of the gubernatorial mansion have been given deck designations.
Deck A, Deck B, Deck C, etc., and ship aboy' rosters throughout the grounds."

The people who have so kindly offered me jobs will have to look elsewhere. I expect to enjoy every mile of the trip and to return home a better Californian and a better American."

Except for brief excursions across the Nevada and Mexican boundaries, Gov. Richardson has not been away from California for fifteen years. During the proposed tour, to which he says he looks forward "with much rest as my young son," he will visit
the Hawaiian Islands, Japan, China,
the Philippines, Java, Ceylon, India,
Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Italy, France, England and various parts of the United States.

In connection with the financing of the honeymoon and subsequent life of the couple together and after the wife left the Count on January 1, 1926, Conway asked Salm if it was not true that he had not even paid for the wedding ring. It was admitted that he had not specifically paid for it, though he made an obscure statement about its being a gift of other jewels he presented to her.

RAIL, SNOW AND LIGHTNING
FEATURE FREAK STORM
Little Damage Reported as Queer Disturbance Circles City; Waterspouts at Sea

Accompanied by many of nature's weather phenomena, a freak storm struck Los Angeles and Southern California yesterday and continued into the night. Although characterized by heavy rains, hail and snow in some sections, strong winds, thunder and lightning and waterspouts just off shore in the ocean, but little damage was reported from any section.

Railroads reported train schedules unaffected, street car and interurban traffic was not halted, ocean shipping unmoiled and automobile and pedestrian traffic proceeded with but little delay.

Los Angeles itself escaped the full force of the freak storm that at other adjacent points hit with some severity. The United States Weather Bureau here gauged the local precipitation at .34 of an inch for the storm up to 5 o'clock last night, making the total for the season 4.36 inches, as compared with 3.52 inches this time last year. Other points, however, reported rainfall for yesterday's storm as heavy as three inches and the surrounding mountains were blanketed in snow almost to the bases.

CLLOUDY TODAY
The forecast for today is partly cloudy and moderately cool, with fresh northerly winds. The forecast does not expect much rain.
Various public-utility corporations reported the conduct of their business
but slightly affected by the storm.
Wet wires and drenched transformers are reported to have caused some interruption in the service of the Southern California Edison Company.
No serious trouble was reported, however. Lights were reported out in some sections of the city for brief periods.

Only minor interruptions in service which were promptly remedied were reported from the offices of the Southern California Telephone Company.
The Los Angeles Railway Company announced that the storm had been responsible for a few accidents, but it was stated that none of the accidents were of a serious character.
Flood conditions at Fullerton resulted in the canceling of the last train of the Pacific Electric Road at 8:15 p.m. Aside from that and minor delays in the movement of trains elsewhere, the Pacific Electric Road reported no detrimental effects of the storm.

Officials of the California Fruit Exchange declared that there was practically no damage to the citrus crops, but predicted that shade trees may have to be resorted to if an expected period of cold sets in, as indicated by the hail and snow. Cauliflower crops at Cudahy were reported seriously injured. By 4 o'clock motorists planning trips over the Ridge Route to Bakersfield or by way of Montgomery Pass to Nevada were warned in a bulletin issued last night by the Automobile Club to expect trouble. Roads to Arrowhead Lake and other mountain points already were described as slippery and drivers warned to use caution in ascending them.

Scout cars reported at 7:30 last night that the Ridge Route in the vicinity of Sandberg's and Bailey's ranch was covered with two inches of snow and that it was still falling.
The Bishop office of the Automobile Club advised that the local office of the club that eight inches of snow had fallen on Montgomery Pass. Westward Pass was visited by the scout storm. Both passes were reported open but very slippery, making it advisable for motorists to use caution.

ORIGINATES AT SEA
As reports from all Southern California sections became available last night, it became apparent that the storm originated at sea and swept inland a few minutes before noon.
Waterspouts and other indications of unusual weather conditions were observed offshore in the morning, but inland precipitation was not recorded during that time.
At only a few points was damage of any moment reported. A strong windstorm, assuming the proportions of a small tornado, visited Arleta, near Long Beach, at noon. Several homes were reported unroofed. Live stock killed and water tanks blown down. A woman was said to have narrowly escaped death when the roof of a house was blown down the same time she was driving an automobile.
South Gate, in the same locality,
was visited with a hailstorm about the same time. The roofs of South Gate, clogging sewers and backing the water over the curb along Independence avenue. A heavy rain followed the hail and set the street and gardens awash, stalling cars and marooning residents.
The storm broke about 1 o'clock, carried on a driving wind from the East, and the hail continued to fall heavily for more than an hour until sidewalks were covered to a depth of six inches.
Frederick Wright, owner of a warehouse at State and Independence avenue, suffered the heaviest damage. A large quantity of dog biscuits, for which he has the agency, were waterlogged. The hail and rain overpowered the sidewalks into the warehouse, covering the floor to a depth of four or five inches.
WINDS BLOWN
J. W. Schilling, motorcycle officer, reported that a few windows had been blown away from the front of a store on Main street. The store was flooded but that no serious damage
had been done.
The deluge seemed to center in an area half a mile wide and probably two or three miles in length. The storm having traveled south and west.
At various points lightning was reported to have struck electric transmission lines.

ITALY DENIES SECRET PACT WITH ALBANIA AMID FUROR

Slavia in Ferment Over Fear of Threat and Rome Accuses France of Stirring Strife

ROME, Dec. 8. (AP)—The recently signed Italian-Albanian pact contains no secret military clauses and in no way can be considered injurious to peace in the Balkans, Italian officials announced today. The treaty, it was asserted, is merely a pact of friendship and arbitration between Italy and Albania, guaranteeing absolute sovereignty and territorial integrity to Albania, and confirming and emphasizing the obligations assumed by the League of Nations.

At the same time, Italy's foreign minister, Count Ciano, declared that Italy's policy in the Balkans is to maintain peace and stability, and that the Italian-Albanian pact is a natural result of this policy. He also accused France of stirring up strife in the Balkans for its own purposes.

France, he said, is trying to create a "Little Entente" in the Balkans, which would include France, Greece, and Yugoslavia. This, he claimed, is a threat to Italy's interests in the Balkans.

Italy, he said, is a member of the League of Nations and is committed to maintaining peace and stability in the Balkans. He also said that Italy is not interested in any secret military pacts with Albania.

Count Ciano also said that Italy is not interested in any secret military pacts with Albania. He also said that Italy is not interested in any secret military pacts with Albania.

PROHIBITION CAUSES SPLIT ON APPROPRIATION BILL

Report to House Discloses Row; Adjournment Taken Before Fight Reaches Floor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. (AP)—The House today received the first of the annual appropriation bills—that for the Treasury and Postoffice departments—but after an hour's discussion adjourned before a threatened fight over prohibition could reach the floor.

Rumblings of the impending battle, however, entered the chamber with the committee report, disclosing that prohibition was the cause of a split in the Appropriations Committee that prevented a unanimous report—a rarity in supply-bill history.

The bill, which included $11,900,000 for the prohibition unit, came out of committee with the opposition of the members who refused to concur in the enforcement appropriation. They are Representatives Gallivan of Massachusetts and Griffin of New York, Democrats.

Two other members of the committee, Representative Vane of Pennsylvania, and Representative Cullen of New York, Democrats, reserved the right to vote against certain prohibition provisions.

"UNDER COVER" FUND
The report of Assistant Secretary Andrews for permission to increase to $600,000 the present $250,000 fund for expenses of "under-cover" agents bore the brunt of Representative Gallivan's attack. He plans to carry his opposition to the floor when consideration of the bill is resumed, probably Friday.

Beer and wine were coupled with farm relief in a motion offered today by Representative Black, Democrat, New York, which would create a Federal alcoholic liquor board in the Department of Agriculture. Farm organizations would be permitted to sell beer and wine to the public to be used for farm-relief purposes.

The appropriation bill proposed appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1927, amounting to $753,483,000 for the postal service and $1,817,371,000 for the Treasury, including $27,540,000 for prohibition enforcement. Of the latter figure, $11,900,000 was allotted for the prohibition unit and $15,640,000 for anti-liquor investigations of the Coast Guard.

The Treasury figure represented a reduction of more than $12,000,000 below current funds and nearly $20,000,000 below the budget estimate for the fiscal year 1928. The Postoffice allotment, while $14,477,430 more than appropriated for this year, was $4,485,960 below the budget figure.

The committee recommended for prohibition enforcement exactly the amount requested, the total for $20,040,000 short of the regular and deficiency appropriations for the present fiscal year.

Besides a reduction in the regular annual funds required to maintain the Treasury Department, the bill called for a reduction of $60,000 in continuing appropriations made possible by the reduction in interest on the public debt.

No funds were provided for new public buildings throughout the country as a sufficient amount to initiate building program authorized at the last session was held to be already available.

Some activities in both departments were allowed increases, while others were curtailed. The general decrease in Treasury appropriation was due principally to elimination of money for public building and a major part of the increase for the postal service was attributable to the advance of nearly $14,000,000 in salaries for employees. Another $2,000,000 in its proper place was set aside for fuel for postal buildings and for additional vehicle service.

The committee made no specific provision for carrying out announced plans of the Postoffice Department to create and equip an armed force to combat mail bandits, task now being performed by the marines.

Postmaster-General Hunt advised the committee that the cost of revenue for the next fiscal year probably would exceed by $40,000,000 this year's amount.

SECRET SERVICE INQUIRY
In the committee's inquiry into the financial needs of the secret service, Representative Byrne of Tennessee, ranking Democrat, said the group touched upon the assignment of an agent to protect John Coolidge, son of the President, at the University of Harvard College. W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, explained that the assignment was in accordance with regulations requiring protection of members of the President's family.

Mr. Moran said he had no criticism to make of the practice of assigning agents to protect the wife of a President "but I do very seriously question the wisdom of the policy of spending money for a companion for the son of the President or any member of the President's family who is attending college. It seems to me that is going too far."

BOOTLEG TRADE REVEALED
Method of Supplying California With Raw Liquor Related at Canadian Hearing
VANCOUVER (B. C.) Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Supplying liquor to bootleggers along the Pacific Coast of the United States brought a gross profit of $12,000,000 to the Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., according to figures given the royal commission investigating customs conditions here today by W. J. Levin, secretary of the corporation.

The Consolidated is capitalized at $1,000,000 and was organized expressly to supply the bootleg trade of the United States, its president, Robert Swanson, testified. It employs five ocean-going vessels while movements are controlled by wireless from Vancouver, he said. It was formed by merging thirteen export houses in British Columbia.

Levin was closely questioned as to whether the Consolidated was an apparent purpose of checking up on bootlegging, but he said the company, Levin said all books and accounts since October 1, 1925 are available.

Mud Cleats Loom for Inglewood-Burbank C.I.F. Play-off Game at Coliseum Saturday

PREP ELEVEN USED TO RAIN

Sentinels Downed El Centro, Long Beach in Mud

Wizards Bumped Oxnard Crew on Sloppy Gridiron

Coliseum Scene of Play-off Semifinal Battle

Mud cleats are likely to be the order of the day next Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum when the eleven of Inglewood and Burbank high hook up in a C.I.F. Southern California semifinal play-off game. If the current storm keeps up its onslaught, the prep are likely to need rowboats as well as mud cleats if they expect to go any place on the field. The game is expected to be a close one.

However, playing on a slippery field will be nothing new to the Inglewood and Burbank gridirers, for they have already proved their ability on gridiron when the weather has been so bad that the game has to be postponed.

Captain Knott, Inglewood's star, was downed by the Oxnard team in a game which was postponed because of the weather. The game was played on the Friday that so many rivers spark plugs refused to work in the rain and the Glendale field was completely waterlogged.

The Wizards got their baptism of mud and rain in their game with Oxnard at the Glendale field a couple of weeks ago. That game was played on the Friday that so many rivers spark plugs refused to work in the rain and the Glendale field was completely waterlogged.

And so, there's no reason for either of the rival eleven to worry about whether they're going to play on a slippery gridiron or not.

The team that has the best line Saturday will no doubt win and both squads are the possessors of star forward walls. Inglewood's front-line defense may have it on the Burbank line is the matter of weight, but Oxnard has several beefy individuals performing for him, so the advantage will be slight.

A preliminary game, deciding the Southern California Class C championship, will start at 1:30 and ought to furnish enough thrills to keep the early arrivals more than interested. Huntington Park and Glendale will provide the opposition in the pee wee battle. If you don't think these little fellows play a speedy brand of ball, you ought to come out and watch them. The Inglewood-Burbank game is scheduled to get underway at 3:30 o'clock.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

A CASUAL perusal of the morning paper and the increasing references to one Susanne Lenglen therein would lead us to suspect that somewhere in the not too distant distance lurks Mr. C. C. Fyle. The demon promoter and his flock of trained tennis players are in San Francisco and there seems to be no doubt but that they will be here within a very few days. Reports have it that La Belle Susanne will do her stuff at the Olympic Auditorium one of these fine young evenings and if such is the case Brother Fyle will probably add considerably to his bank roll. Not only are Susanne and her playmates good attractions for their own merits but the additional fact that Harvey Snodgrass and Mary Browne are genuine Los Angeles products will add greatly to the popular interest.

And then we have with us the Catalina swim. It is pretty difficult for all of us to believe the facts of the case. We're too close to the darn thing. But here we have on the job and training every day the only two American men who ever swam the English Channel and several dozen other noted swimmers preparing for the race. If any one or two of these individuals were over in England or France training to try to swim the English Channel, there would be a story a day and all kinds of excitement over it. Brother Fyle's swim is a sure bet to be one of the biggest publicity getters in history.

If Bill Kelly goes to West Point there will be a pretty worthy successor to Harry Wilson. The Honolulu swimmer was badly smothered here on Turkey Day but through no fault of his own, he was smothered pretty thoroughly on plays from scrimmage, through no fault of his own, he put on an exhibition of forward passing that was certainly far from poor. Kelly behind the strong lines that they always have at West Point ought to be something new for the boys to rave about in the East.

SELL-OUT FOR ALABAMA TILT

Applications Already in for 47,000 Tickets

Seating Capacity of Bowl is But 52,000

New Record Assured in Big Grid Classic

Mr. Leslie B. Henry has done an astute bit of match-making and the public realizes it. Last year Mr. Henry did an equally brilliant bit of match-making. But the trouble was a lot of folks didn't think so and accordingly stayed at home.

To date applications for 27,000 seats have been received at the Pasadena office of the Stanford office. Two days of mail has been opened because of the terrific line in the office. Nobody knows how many applications remain in these sacks, but the estimate runs into the thousands. Stanford alumni are to be served with the best seats before the general public is taken care of. Lieben-dorfer figures that between 30,000 and 35,000 graduates, ex-students and students will want tickets. More than 15,000 tickets went to Stanford for the U.S.C.-Stanford game. Lieben-dorfer believes that thousands of Stanford fans failed to attend that game, feeling that Stanford would be seen in action again on New Year's Day.

Putting 27,000 and 30,000—at the minimum—together gives 47,000 seats disposed of. The bowl has a seating capacity of 52,000, so if you haven't applied for your seat yet a bit of hustling may get you in among the last 5,000—that is, if the unopened mailbag isn't overstocked. The seating capacity, it is said, will not be increased for the game.

WANTED 1700 SEATS
Oh, yes, the above figures fail to take into account several thousand people who hold script tickets to the Rose Bowl. Having helped to build the joint these folks must be well taken care of.

One fellow walked into the Pasadena office yesterday and casually talked for 1700 seats. He represented an organization that "simply had to be accommodated." To date he hasn't got the duets. That's the way it goes every day, declared Lieben-dorfer. Requests range from one to fifty seats, on the average.

Two years ago when Stanford played Notre Dame it took just sixteen days to sell out the bowl. At that time there was a public sale of seats. This year there has been no public sale, the only way of securing duets being by application. The first application blanks were printed last Friday, less than a week ago, and the bowl is almost sold out already. It doesn't, therefore, take any great stretch of the imagination to figure that a new record is about to be established.

Irish Mentor Denies Bear Coaching Bid

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8. (AP)—Katie Rockne, famed football coach, arrived here today with his family from Los Angeles and all sailed an hour later on the liner Maui for Honolulu. Rockne said that he had not heard of any offers to become a member of the University of California summer school football faculty, but thinks that such a job would be an attractive one.

The Notre Dame coach expects to officiate at several football games in the islands.

DRILLERS MUST PLAY AT LODI

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 8.—The Bakersfield Drillers will have to meet the Lodi eleven on Lodi's field north of Stockton this coming Saturday, according to a vote of the majority of the directors of the C.I.F. Principal H. A. Shindt said today. Principal Shindt was notified by H. J. Moore, president of the C.I.F. that a majority of its directors had voted in favor of ordering Bakersfield to play at Lodi.

The Drillers journeyed away from Bakersfield last year for their semifinal and final games. For this reason the stand was taken that Lodi should come here for this year's game. However, the Lodi officials quoted an old precedent and the matter was put to a telegraphic vote.

of the C.I.F. officials with the result that Bakersfield must make the trip. Should the Drillers win, however, the final games will be played here.

Yes, Different

Cigarettes are cigarettes, many people think, until they get acquainted with Lucky Strikes. Then they appreciate the difference.

That's because Lucky Strike tobacco—the world's finest Turkish and domestic—are subjected to a costly extra process, toasting. If judged only for their tobacco, Lucky Strikes would rank as the finest.

But the added refinement of toasting gives them an individuality all their own. Lucky Strike smokers enjoy:

- Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobacco.
- Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.
- Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

Thus the toasting process is an addition. It adds a unique and distinct improvement to a cigarette that has already been made from the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. It is the reason millions prefer Lucky Strikes.

"It's toasted"

That's Why Luckies Taste So Good

FIVE WILL HANG 'WITHIN MONTH

Executions to Usher in C. C. Young's Regime

Capital Punishment May be Brought to Front

New Governor's Attitude to be Closely Watched

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 8. (P)—Five hangings scheduled to take place in California during the first month of C. C. Young's term as Governor promise to bring capital punishment sharply to the front among problems to be faced by the new administration.

During the four years Gov. Richardson has been in office he has emphasized with pride his refusal to pardon men duly condemned to die by California courts, and in seeking re-election he made frequent reference to his consistent rejection of eleventh-hour appeals for executive clemency.

What his successor will do in similar cases, therefore, is a question of more than usual public interest. The scheduling of five executions for the opening weeks of the Young administration creates a situation destined to be closely watched by both friends and enemies of the new Governor.

Records in the Governor's office today show the following convicted murderers slated to die at San Quentin or Folsom prison between January 7 and February 4:

William J. Slater, San Bernardino county, January 7.
Philip A. Goodwin, Orange county, January 14.
Sydney Adams, Los Angeles county, January 21.
Ray Arnold, Sacramento county, January 28.
E. E. Sawyer, Arnold's companion in the killing of a Japanese woman, February 4.

All except Arnold and Sawyer are at San Quentin.

There are also three murderers in the prisons whose death sentences have been stayed by appeals to the Supreme Court. They are Milton Yochter, Placer county; Joseph Sandoval, Ventura county; and George Walters, Sacramento county.

New Stories of Wild and Woolly West Told to Aid in Fight of Mrs. Cockburn for Estate

BOSTON, Dec. 8. (P)—Orin stories of the Old West continued to add a dramatic touch today to the hearing in Suffolk Probate Court, where Mrs. Carlotta Cockburn of San Gabriel, Cal., in seeking to prove relationship to the late Lotta Crabtree that she may share in the former actress's $4,000,000 estate.

For five days, counsel for Mrs. Cockburn have been weaving together in a score of depositions bearing witness that she was the daughter of John A. Crabtree, brother of Lotta, and was born in Tombstone, Ariz., when that town was a wild mining camp in the early eighties.

Additional depositions were offered today and in them were more tales of frontier life. There was one from Florence Stillman, a deputy sheriff at Bisbee during the eighties, who said there were many tales of hold-ups and robberies in those days as well as frequent Indian raids. He recalled that the Wells Fargo Express Company lost between $12,000 and $15,000 in one robbery.

"Killings" were common, he related, and of thirty-three persons who died in Bisbee while he was there, thirty-one were the victims of Indian raids. "I asked him if he was any relation to Lotta Crabtree," asked a lawyer, and he said he was her brother.

Mrs. Cockburn testified, "He frequently spoke of his relationship with Lotta Crabtree, and inasmuch as I was

PREMIERE FOR OPERA BY CADMAN

Musical Themes in Wide Gamut at First Showing of "Witch of Salem"

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. (P)—Musical themes running the gamut from church hymns and Irish melodies to pirate chants are wrinkled through the score of "A Witch of Salem," Charles Wakefield Cadman's new American opera, given its world premiere tonight by the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

In addition, more than a hint of one-time operatic outcast syncretism made its appearance, while the witchcraft themes of the opera were accompanied by difficult and unusual rhythms. No new instruments were employed, but countless weird percussion effects were utilized as the stark New England tale was unfolded. The libretto, which is based on the witchcraft fear that swept Massachusetts in the seventeenth century, was written by Nellie Richmond Eberhardt, now a resident of Chicago, who has been Mr. Cadman's collaborator for a number of years.

The opera thus is an all-American affair, written by Americans, based on a native theme, conducted by a Chicagoan and sung in English.

RED ENVOY TO MEXICO MODERATE

Soviet Woman Diplomat Discusses United States Bar to Entry Calmly

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Possibly the United States does not differentiate my diplomatic position from that of a propagandist, said Mrs. Alexandra Kollontay upon her arrival to take up her duties as Soviet minister to Mexico. The refusal of the United States to allow her to pass through American territory "may perhaps be due to wrong interpretation or to dislike for me," she said.

The opinion that she is a dangerous agitator is erroneous, she declared, saying she is devoted solely to carrying out her diplomatic work, cementing friendship where she goes, "unconfrontable with any international or doctrinal propaganda," she said that perhaps the fact that diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia are suspended has some bearing on the American attitude toward her. Asked why she had not been allowed to land at Havana, she said this incident had nothing to do with the American attitude. The Cuban authorities had shown her "most respectfully," no article of the immigration law which prohibits women traveling without male escorts from landing in Cuba. Mrs. Kollontay was accompanied by her maid.

The chief point in her Mexican program is to intensify commercial relations with Russia by direct steamers, "thus eliminating participation of a third nation."

Various Mexican Communist delegations welcomed her at Vera Cruz, one woman delivering a stump speech. Mrs. Kollontay was welcomed by Gen. Jeriberto Jara, Governor of the State of Vera Cruz. She kept all awaiting for some time while she completed her toilet, appearing dressed in the latest fashion.

For five days, counsel for Mrs. Cockburn have been weaving together in a score of depositions bearing witness that she was the daughter of John A. Crabtree, brother of Lotta, and was born in Tombstone, Ariz., when that town was a wild mining camp in the early eighties.

Additional depositions were offered today and in them were more tales of frontier life. There was one from Florence Stillman, a deputy sheriff at Bisbee during the eighties, who said there were many tales of hold-ups and robberies in those days as well as frequent Indian raids. He recalled that the Wells Fargo Express Company lost between $12,000 and $15,000 in one robbery.

"Killings" were common, he related, and of thirty-three persons who died in Bisbee while he was there, thirty-one were the victims of Indian raids. "I asked him if he was any relation to Lotta Crabtree," asked a lawyer, and he said he was her brother.

Mrs. Cockburn testified, "He frequently spoke of his relationship with Lotta Crabtree, and inasmuch as I was

PREMIERE FOR OPERA BY CADMAN

Musical Themes in Wide Gamut at First Showing of "Witch of Salem"

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. (P)—Musical themes running the gamut from church hymns and Irish melodies to pirate chants are wrinkled through the score of "A Witch of Salem," Charles Wakefield Cadman's new American opera, given its world premiere tonight by the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

In addition, more than a hint of one-time operatic outcast syncretism made its appearance, while the witchcraft themes of the opera were accompanied by difficult and unusual rhythms. No new instruments were employed, but countless weird percussion effects were utilized as the stark New England tale was unfolded. The libretto, which is based on the witchcraft fear that swept Massachusetts in the seventeenth century, was written by Nellie Richmond Eberhardt, now a resident of Chicago, who has been Mr. Cadman's collaborator for a number of years.

The opera thus is an all-American affair, written by Americans, based on a native theme, conducted by a Chicagoan and sung in English.

Archbishop Lays Mexican Strife to Communism

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Fundamentally, the motive behind the present "chaotic situation in Mexico" is not the conduct of a war against the Roman Catholic Church there but an organized effort to trench Communism on the North American continent, Archbishop Edward J. Hanna told more than 1500 officers and members of the Knights of Columbus here last night.

The gathering was a rally to form plans for a public mass meeting next Sunday when Attorney Joseph Scott of Los Angeles and a high official of the Knights of Columbus, will lead a discussion of the Mexican situation from an American standpoint.

Thomas F. White of Los Angeles, former judge and Supreme Director of the order, was another speaker at last night's meeting.

$500,000 in Sales in 9 Weeks!

Since this 3000-acre tract was opened to the public on September 26, the public has shown its confidence in Sparrland and the fur rabbit industry by investing here more than $500,000.

$10,000,000 IN RESOURCES ARE BEHIND YOU AT SPARRLAND!

Rabbit Fur in Demand

Government reports state that last year importation of rabbit pelts into the United States from foreign countries reached the high total of 18,000,000, these pelts being used by furriers and in the making of hats, and that "good Chinilla pelts bring from $1.00 to $3.50 each on the raw fur market."

There is a great demand for Chinilla pelts especially, this fur being used in the making of expensive coats and wraps, jackets, neckpieces and trimmings.

The price of rabbit pelts has increased 100% in the last ten years and the existing fur farms cannot begin to meet the growing demand for them.

A Net Income of $4000 a Year

This figure is arrived at by our rabbit expert, Mr. Ben H. Beery, after making due allowance for expected losses, feeding costs and a minimum price for meat and fur.

It must be borne in mind that the average doe will produce a minimum of four litters in a year, with six to the litter, that the first litter does are bred twice before the end of the year and the second litter does once. Figure for yourself what this should mean when you have increased your breeding stock to 200 does.

We Furnish You a Market

We have only begun with you when you buy a model ranch from us at Sparrland. We pledge to you our heartiest co-operation to help you succeed. Our "buy back" plan eliminates the trouble and worries of seeking the best market for your rabbits. In addition to paying you top prices for your meat and fur, Mr. Beery, who is in charge of the rabbitry, contracts to pay you a big premium for standard stock.

We are convinced that, under our co-operative plan, the individual ambitious man can realize a substantial and growing income from raising fur rabbits at Sparrland and really enjoy life while he is doing it.

MRS. BURCH RETURNS HOME

Principal in Marson Elopement Granted Trip East to Compose Differences With Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Another transcontinental episode is being written into the troubled love story of Mrs. Isabelle Keyes Burch, whose elopement with Capt. Arnaldo Marson wound up in the Mann Act net here.

On Tuesday night, twenty-four hours after she had appeared with Capt. Marson before the Federal grand jury in an effort to thwart indictment, Mrs. Burch boarded an overland train and is now on her way to Yonkers, N. Y., to see her husband and two children, all deserted when she fled west early in October with the man she loves.

But she is soon to return to San Francisco. For she is only away under permission of the Federal authorities upon a mission that, according to her attorney, Chauncey Trumbull, consists in a quest for an "amicable adjustment" with her husband.

These disclosures today may account in some measure for the tears that coursed down the beautiful woman's face as she emerged from the grand jury room last Monday. Did she tell the grand jury that she loves Capt. Marson alone and can never return to her home and family? That indictments and imprisonment will not alter the dictates of her heart? That her only hope is to persuade her husband to free her by divorce to marry Capt. Marson?

It is now concluded she did, and that the grand jury, which has reported no indictments against the errant lovers, agreed to withhold action until Mrs. Burch was able to relate the attitude of her husband toward the affair.

Capt. Marson remains in San Francisco.

Need of Uniform Traffic Laws in West is Urged

CO. JORDANO SPRINGS, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Uniform traffic laws for the West on States which will enable tourists to travel without danger were advocated before the midyear meeting of the western division of the United States Chamber of Commerce this morning by Mrs. D. E. F. Easton of San Francisco, chairman of the California Public Safety Conference and head of the women's division of the California Development Association.

Mrs. Easton had the honor of being the only woman to address the convention, which closed at noon today. The necessity for what he termed "a uniform traffic law" was stressed by Norman H. Sloane, general manager of the California Development Association of San Francisco in his speech before the convention today. The delegates were greatly impressed with his statement concerning the timber resources of the West.

Farmers Adopt Lowden Plan of Crops Control

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—The American Farm Bureau Federation today adopted the plan of the late Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, on crop-surplus control as its final session today.

West and South got together. The crop and hog raisers united with the cotton planters and made ready to descend upon Washington in a concerted effort for farm relief. They will demand from Congress that it make a national agricultural policy the first business of the present session. They call for a surplus-control measure which will provide a Federal Farm Board, administering an adequate revolving fund, with whose co-operation surplus can actually be handled by co-operative agencies created by the farmers; distribute the costs of managing surplus just as broadly as the resultant benefits are distributed, that is, over each marketed unit of a particular commodity through an equalization fee.

Modesto Jurors Convict Tramp of Killing Baby

MODESTO, Dec. 8. (AP)—J. H. King, 27 years of age, itinerant box maker, today was found guilty of the brutal murder of Billy Grimes, 3, of Corva, on the night of September 17, last. The jury of three women and nine men deliberated for fourteen hours.

The jury recommended life imprisonment with neither pardon nor parole. Superior Judge Redman will pronounce sentence Saturday morning. A searching party found Billy's body beneath an olive tree near Corva early on the morning of September 18. An examination revealed that Billy had been strangled to death.

The record of gas companies in California, as elsewhere, is one of most satisfactory earnings for stockholders.

Wheat Future for December Sharply Down

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. (Reuters)—December wheat futures were sharply down today, closing at 1.04 1/2, down from 1.05 1/2 at the close of the previous day. The decline was due to a report that the U. S. government had decided to increase its wheat stockpile, which would result in a larger supply of wheat for export.

The wheat market was also affected by a report that the U. S. government had decided to increase its wheat stockpile, which would result in a larger supply of wheat for export.

BOND DEPARTMENT

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—A strong market for foreign bonds stood out in contrast to the irregular price tendencies of domestic issues today. Trading continued to expand in volume, but firmer time-money conditions caused some profit taking among obligations which had been prominent in the recent advance. The satisfactory operation of the Devises plan and the improved outlook for currency stabilization in Europe created a better demand for German and Belgian issues, several of which sold at new high levels for the year. German government 7s held above 100 and both the Belgian 7s and 6 1/2s worked into new high ground. Gains of a point or so were recorded by the Berlin and Cologne city bonds, Rheinische Union 7s and Saxon Public Works 7s.

Investment circles were surprised by the small financing program of the United States Treasury for the 1935 fiscal year, which will consist of $300,000,000 nine-month 3 1/4 per cent certificates. The transaction will cut down the supply of short-term material, which is in great demand for institutional investments. Liberty bonds were moderately higher today, but the Treasury issues were little changed.

Independent strong features in the domestic list included Granary Mining 7s, which rallied more than 4 points, Manassas Sugar 7 1/2s and International Mercantile Marine 8s. These issues were partially counteracted by the heaviness of Botany Mills 6 1/2s, Bush Terminal 6s and Western Union 6 1/2s.

New financing, which included $317,000,000 6 per cent bonds for the city of Montevideo, was promptly absorbed.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can prevent them now with Creomulsion, the emulsified creosote that is so important to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with a new action; it soothes and heals inflamed membranes and checks germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest remedies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of respiratory troubles. Creomulsion contains addition to creosote, other elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and check the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to attack the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, and other forms of respiratory trouble. Money refunded if it fails to relieve after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Advertisement.)

According to testimony taken in the case the dog bit the boy in the face, leaving a scar. The verdict was directed against Joseph Graham, said to be the owner of the dog.

Controversy Threatens
Over Placing Industry
Under State Commission

Controversy over the adoption of the proposed measure to place the control of the honey industry and inspection of bees in the hands of the state horticultural commission promises to make a stormy session of the thirty-seventh annual convention of the California State Beekeepers' Association opening in the State Building at Exposition Park today.

According to Lester Bamberger, chairman of the legislative committee of the association, the proposed measure is a "bitter pill" to the beekeepers. He also says that the northern counties of the state will be a bitter pill to the beekeepers. He also says that the northern counties of the state will be a bitter pill to the beekeepers.

JUNIOR LEAGUE TAKES VOYAGE

Trip in S.S. Hysteria Proves Successful Frolic

Pasadena Debutantes Give Unique Affair

Proceeds Go to Endowment Fund for Nursery

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

With a truly professional background and enthusiasm to correspond, the fifth annual frolic of the Pasadena Junior League in the ballroom of the Biltmore last evening was an immense success. The "house" was sold out, and society was out on mass to give its support to this most worthy charity, the nursery endowment fund for the ten beds at the Girls' and Boys' Aid Society in South Pasadena, which this organization, made up of the debutantes and young matrons of the Crown City's social circles, maintains.

Flags of all nations were hung from the balconies of the ballroom and standards at the four corners of the room held the same emblem, while the dinner tables carried out the motif of the voyage of the S.S. Hysteria, with centerpieces of red sailboats bearing the name of the steamer on the hull. At the ends were wheat posies with dolls in sailor caps.

CABARET SHOW GIVEN

The program included the itinerary of the voyage of the Hysteria to all foreign ports, conducted by Raymond Whitcomb and directed by nine young guides, including Barbara Shunk, Hazel Leggat, Louise Macy, Betty McAlpin, Carita Miller, Frances Miller, Catherine Ware, Anita Whitehouse and Elizabeth Wood.

The Cabaret Show was put on by Gilbert and Piliert, otherwise known as Mrs. Joseph Kelleher (Mildred Landreth) and Mrs. Alfred Wright (Marie Bobrick) supposedly old-timers in the vaudeville game. The guests or passengers were shown all the important and various countries of interest including Paris where the Montmartre, Moulin Rouge with Love, Danter and Romance were encountered with Apache. Later Rumania was visited, and the Queen (Mrs. Harold Landreth) was shown as well as a group of young villagers in their various native dances. Then, after visiting "Greenland's" spiky mountains and "India's" Moral Strand, they turned their faces toward Africa where there was a "tiff with the Riff and a glimpse given of the genesis of Jazz, then on to Spain for "Seven Nights in Seville," and back home again.

SPECIALTIES OFFERED

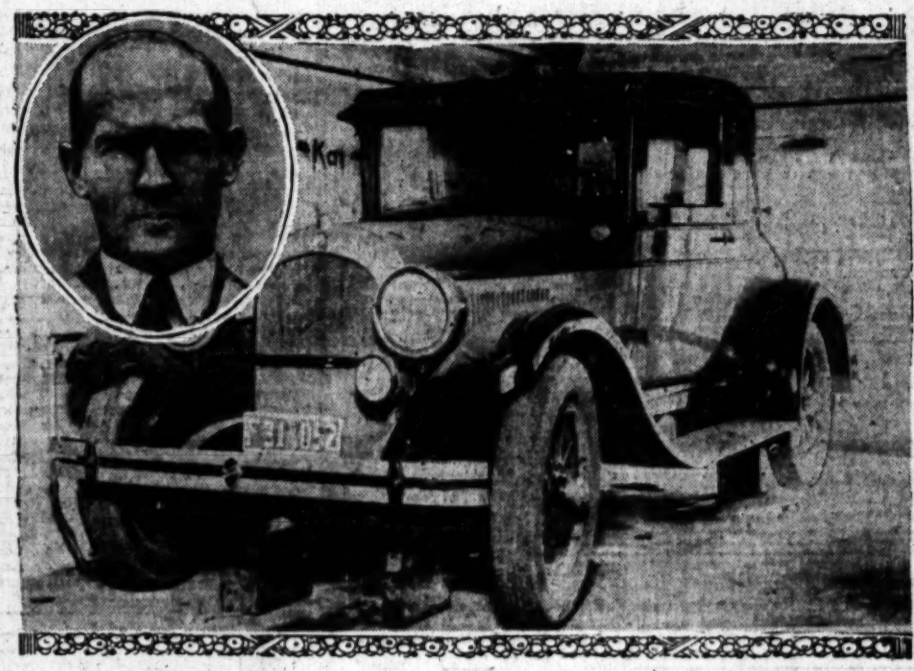

Specialties were given in songs by Miss Frances Cassell and Mrs. Maria Miller, "Gracie Snatchers," while Miss Gertrude Macy and Miss Louise Macy, Miss Lillian Drummond, Miss Polly Holbert, Mrs. Wade Griswold and Mrs. Howard Hughes gave solo shoe dances. There were numerous other specialties by the various members of the cast.

The entire program was given by the Junior League members with Mrs. Donald O'Melveny, general chairman, Mrs. Joseph Kelleher and Mrs. Alfred Wright in charge of the show, costumes, Mrs. Robert Pinkbone, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Hunter, was in charge of the tickets, Mrs. W. N. Bucklin, Jr., reservations, and Mrs. Harold Landreth, assisted by Mrs. Lett Russell, handled the publicity.

The dinner chairman, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, while chairman of the hostesses was Mrs. Lionel Armstrong. Mrs. Stuart O'Melveny and Mrs. Gertrude Macy directed the decorations and Miss Carita Miller and Miss Louise Macy were head of the program committee.

Mrs. Robert Pinkbone and Mrs. Otis Buckingham were on the chance committee, while Mrs. Robert Stephenson assisted by Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. Alvah Kaimie, Mrs. John Barnes Miller, Jr., Mrs. Philip Thomas and Mrs. Harold Waters sold cigarettes and Miss Gertrude Macy was in charge of the refreshment committee. Patrons of the evening included Mrs. J. Willis Bear, Mrs. Thomas (Continued on Page 2, Column 8)

WIDER PICO OPPOSITION TO BE AIRED

Council Will Consider All Protests Next Monday at Special Meeting

Protests against the opening and widening of Pico street as a 100-foot traffic artery from Santa Fe avenue to Alvarado street, at an estimated cost of $3,500,000, were heard and denied by the City Council yesterday, thus clearing the way for the adoption of the ordinance and hearings of the condemnation cases. These usually require three years.

There are 125 protests filed, which represent less than 10 per cent of the property in the large district of 3000 owners, to be assessed for the improvement. Toward the cost of opening and widening Pico street in this section, the city proposes to appropriate from general and bond funds $350,000, or 10 per cent of the total expense, because of the general benefit the city as a whole will receive from the improvement. The section under consideration yesterday is part of the plan of making Pico street a 100-foot thorough boulevard from the east city limits to the ocean. Much of the widening and paving has been completed west of Grenshaw boulevard.

WILL SPEAK ON COINS

Dr. E. C. Bull of Pasadena will speak on "Colonial Money" at the Los Angeles Museum at Exposition Park at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Bull owns one of the most nearly complete collections of early American money in California. The lecture is one of a series given by the Museum Patron Association in connection with the historical loan exhibition of early American arts and crafts, now in the main galleries of the museum.

SANTA RACES RAIN CLOUDS

Reindeer Carry Him Ahead of Downpour to Schools;
More Children to be Visited Today

NEW TREAT IN STORE TODAY

Santa Claus will offer the children a wonderful treat this afternoon at his headquarters in Exposition Park, just south and east of the Coliseum. He will let them walk right through his snow-covered reindeer herd. Here's the program for this afternoon and each afternoon this week, including Sunday: Santa will drive his reindeer on Figueroa street from Exposition Boulevard to Santa Barbara avenue and thence to his headquarters beginning promptly at 2 o'clock. Upon arriving at his headquarters he will put his deer in the barn and then invite the children to walk through and see them in their stalls. They can look in the Eskimo igloo and see the sleigh in a shed of its own. A walk right through Santa's reindeer herd? Nothing like it on land or sea!

Just to show how fast his reindeer can go Santa Claus outran the rain clouds and visited every school on his schedule yesterday without getting wet.

Santa was at the first school, the Hoover-street school, with his reindeer promptly at 9 a.m. He reached the last of a string of ten schools, the Gardner-street school, at 12:30 o'clock.

In that time he saw and talked to more than 6000 and 7000 school children. And also in that time the general Los Angeles district was experiencing heavy showers of rain, hail, snow and even a waterpout. But hardly a drop of rain fell on Santa Claus and his reindeer or on the thousands of school children who left their classrooms to see them.

Of course, it must be admitted that Dancer and Francer and the rest of the reindeer had to travel like the wind to keep just one jump ahead of the showers, but they did it. Even while Santa would be talking to children out in the school yard, automobiles would pass on the street dripping wet, and word would come that it was pouring rain at the school Santa had just left. And he would give the word, and off the reindeer party would go, on to the next school with the rain on its heels.

There were lots of songs for Santa Claus as he went his rounds yesterday. They sang for him at the Chahuenga school, and at the Dayton Heights, and the Laurel and other schools. One class of youngsters at the Dayton Heights school was thrilled when Santa Claus told them

Other Articles Declared to Aid McPherson Case Hunt

The automobile of Kenneth G. Ormiston, phantom radio man, yielded new clues which will aid materially in a solution of the disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson, according to representatives of the District Attorney's office, who took possession of the machine last evening at an Oakland garage. The car, found Monday by police, had been stored at the Oakland garage since June 24, last, the day following the dramatic reappearance in Mexico of the evangelist.

Los Angeles authorities obtained possession of the blue coupe and opened the rear compartment in spite of the efforts of Ormiston's father, W. C. Ormiston of San Francisco, to balk them. The car and the articles found in the rear compartment will be brought to this city to be used as exhibits at the forthcoming conspiracy trial of Mrs. McPherson and her codefendants before a Superior Court jury.

FEDERAL INQUIRY

The finding of a portable Corona typewriter in the baggage compartment of Ormiston's automobile means the re-entrance into the case of Federal authorities and an entirely new investigation surrounding the $500,000 ransom letter which was received by the evangelist's mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, at St. Temple several days prior to the return of Mrs. McPherson.

According to an announcement made last night by United States Atty. McNabb, the new Federal investigation will be undertaken to determine if the typewriter discovered in Ormiston's car was the machine used to type the ransom letter.

The opening of the rear compartment of the blue coupe, which has figured prominently in the case since the day of the disappearance and in which the State contends, Mrs. McPherson was driven from Venice and fled with Ormiston from the Carmel cottage, revealed a number of secrets of the disappearance, according to local officials.

CONTENDERS IN HOT FINISH

Near-Close of Special Prize in "Times" Contest Brings Burst of Speed Among Entrants

Pitting their full strength in strenuous efforts to capture the special prize $1495 Auburn sport roadster, candidates in The Times $50,000 prize campaign are making this the most exciting and productive period of the race. Only three days remain to decide the ownership of this added award, and then comes the final week, whereupon thirty additional motor cars and numerous other valuable prizes will be given to men and women who have amassed the highest vote totals.

Though the $50,000 prize list is later, as all new subscriptions turned in now earn thousands of extra votes. For every $30 club or combination, an extra vote ballot, good for 80,000 extra votes, is issued.

Another reason why candidates are doing their best now is that new subscriptions have a greater vote value during the remainder of the campaign.

Allison Tells Engineers Colorado Waters Will Improve 2,477,000 Acres

Water can be drawn from the Colorado River, when conditions are right, to irrigate all the lands in the Colorado Basin that can be cultivated, according to a statement made by the Los Angeles section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at a banquet at the Elks last night, either by the United States government, the Mexican government or both working in conjunction, to save Imperial Valley from the flood hazard.

"Unless something is done at once," he declared, "there will be little of the Imperial Valley left to save by the time the Boulder Canyon dam is constructed."

Photographs and slides in profusion were shown by the engineer to the meeting. These showed the ravages of the river, the danger spots, and brought out the necessity for prompt action to save the valley from disastrous floods.

There are plenty of places where Congress can practice economy without cutting down the Navy.

International affairs are becoming dangerous and hectic in various quarters, especially in the Orient.

No one knows at what minute we may need warships—and a lot of them.

You can improve a lot of things—but not a navy.

"H. R. H." The Prince of Wales—as one of his young actress friends assures me—is "a good egg."

But the attempts of his biographers to paint him as a young genius of flashing wit, and as a street business man, exhausted by his devotion to his patriotic duties, are not as convincing as might be.

Maj. F. E. Verney is the author of a late book of that description. The most damning thing he seems to report of H.R.H. relates to an address of welcome delivered by the sacred Mayor of a British town.

"Not only as the Prince of Wales do we welcome you—but as—as—" stammered the terrified official.

"Not only as the Prince of Wales but for myself," prompted the Prince, who had heard so many such speeches that he knew what came next.

Maj. Verney says that when he was a little boy the British heir insisted that he didn't want to be the Prince of Wales, he wanted to be a policeman—an ambition in which he had the sympathy of his august grandfather—Edward VII.

NOT WHAT WAS COMING

That Superior Court judge who was so horrified by the designs of a young vamp has more tenderness in his heart for impressionable young men of wealth than I have.

Any rich boy who picks up a girl at a hotel and marries her at a wild party deserves about what inevitably is in store for him.

THE BRIDE AND GROOM

Our friend Lew Cody, and his wife, who is Mabel Normand, have decided to give up living in two houses, and to be regular married people.

But for the sake of all the golden dreams of old romance I could wish that they had given some other reason than that two houses cost too much.

All of which brings to mind the gentle ironies of the movies—one of the biggest hits made either by Miss Normand or Mr. Cody was "Mickey." Cody was the villain who pursued his present loving wife through various devious hallways and finally out on to a roof where she clung by her fingernails until rescued by a beautiful and pure young man.

REGAL BATHTUBS

The mystery is now cleared up. Why the eminent and illustrious Maharajah of Indore is lingering around Hollywood.

It appears that when he was chased off his throne in India he was having installed in his palace a $10,000 bathroom. What more natural than that his heart should turn to the place made world famous by Mr. Cecil De Mille's bath-tubs?

As a matter of fact, there isn't a palace anywhere that wouldn't look pretty tame compared with the movie-set palaces of the screen.

Camera Catches Waterspout During Yesterday's Unusual Storm

This Remarkable Photograph of a Waterspout Twisting Its Way Across the Ocean Off Santa Monica was taken at noon yesterday while the freak storm which skittered through Southern California was at its height. The photo was taken by Bill Henry of the Times staff, with a 2 1/4 x 3 1/4 kodak. (indicated by arrow) traveled landward for at least twenty minutes before it finally collapsed in sight of scores of fascinated watchers. (Times photo.)

Some Idea of the Size of the Hailstones which bombarded South Gate, ten miles southwest of Los Angeles, yesterday is conveyed in the two photos above. Residents on the streets at the time the bombardment struck the suburb, inconspicuously sought shelter. There was little damage done in the district. (Times photo.)

"It's an Ill Wind That Blows No Good," the traffic officer pictured above, enjoying his first feel of hail in years, may be safely quoted as saying. Automobile speeding through the suburb was at a low ebb while the hail covered the streets. (Times photo.)

And It Was a Gala Day for the Kiddies of South Gate, most of whom had water in its frozen state before yesterday. It is probably destined to American youngster to fashion snowballs, for these strangers to winter immediately molded the hail into convenient shape for hurling and making of everything. (Times photo.)

A Brighter Christmas for the Blind of Los Angeles is the aim of those in charge of the Christmas sale to be held today at 227 North Broadway between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., at which articles made by the sightless will be offered. Beatrice Sechler, a blind worker, shown above at task. (Times photo.)

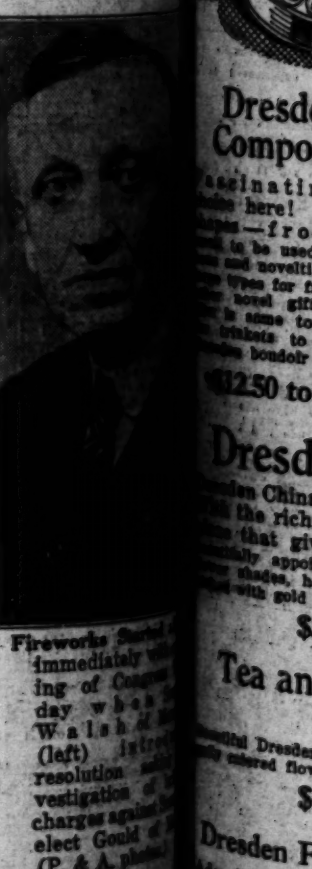

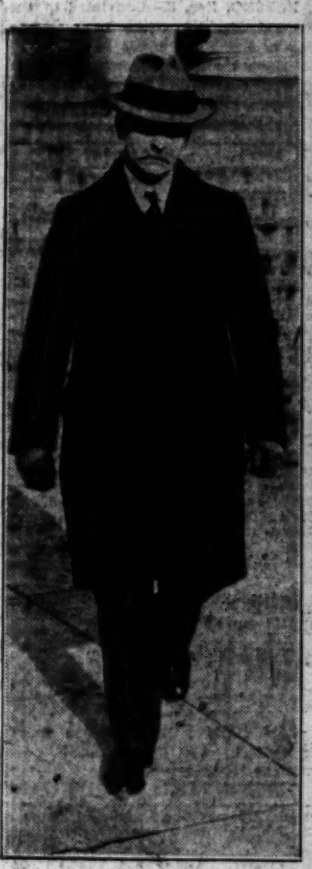

Clothes Make a Man, nation's Supreme Court indicated recently when Sid White (above) of Oklahoma, appeared before it sans necktie. (Herbert Photos, Inc.)

Husband's Career as a tenor was more important to Lydia Lindgren (above) than her life. She attempted suicide hoping it would aid him. (P. & A. photo.)

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 582

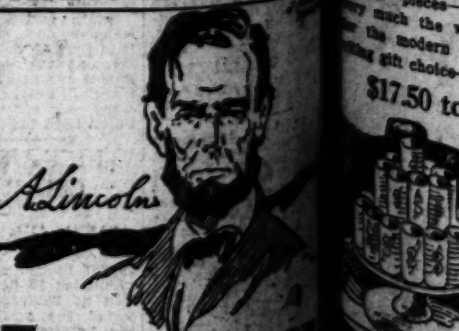

AS THE CIVIL WAR WENT ON, ANTI-SLAVERY AGITATION IN THE NORTH INCREASED. TWO UNION GENERALS (FREMONT IN MISSOURI, 1861, AND HUNTER IN SOUTH CAROLINA, 1862), ATTEMPTED ON THEIR OWN RESPONSIBILITY TO FREE THE SLAVES BY PROCLAMATION. BUT LINCOLN ANNULLLED THESE ORDERS AS EXCEEDING THE AUTHORITY OF GENERALS IN THE FIELD.

IN SPITE OF ITS ASSERTION THAT IT WOULD NOT INTERFERE WITH SLAVERY, CONGRESS SOON SAW THAT THE SLAVES WERE A MILITARY ASSET TO THE CONFEDERACY AND IN AUG. 1861, PASSED THE FIRST OF THE "CONFISCATION ACTS" WHICH AUTHORIZED THE SEIZURE OF CONFEDERATE SLAVES EMPLOYED IN WARLIKE LABOR.

LINCOLN FELT THAT THE MAJORITY OF NORTHERNERS WERE MORE INTERESTED IN SAVING THE UNION THAN THEY WERE IN ABOLITION AND HE FEARED THE WAR WOULD BECOME UNPOPULAR IF EMANCIPATION WERE MADE ITS CHIEF AIM. ON AUG. 19, 1862, HORACE GREELEY PUBLISHED AN EDITORIAL IN HIS PAPER, THE NEW YORK "TRIBUNE", BITTERLY DENOUNCING LINCOLN'S INACTION IN THE MATTER OF EMANCIPATION.

LINCOLN'S REPLY WAS STRONG AND POINTED. "MY PARAMOUNT DUTY IS TO SAVE THE UNION AND IS NOT EXTENDING THIS STRUGGLE." HE WROTE TO THE UNION WITHOUT FREEDING ANY SLAVE. "DO IT; AND IF I COULD SAVE IT BY ALL THE SLAVES, I WOULD DO IT."

PAPER WRECKING CHARGED

Charges that Harvey L. Johnson was sent to the Pacific Coast by the Vanderbilt family for the deliberate purpose of wrecking the tabloid newspapers of Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. were introduced yesterday by Lyndon L. Young into the trial of his $10,000 suit against Meredith P. Snyder, receiver for the Illustrated Daily News Company. Testimony was completed and the matter was taken under submission by Judge Rosenkrantz.

Young, who is suing for money he asserts is due him for his work as an attorney in proceedings leading up to the receivership, called attention to the rift between the Vanderbilts and their son in the course of his cross-examination of Johnson. The latter had described himself as a general manager of young Vanderbilt's three western papers.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor creases and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. A small, dark, circular spot is visible near the bottom center of the page. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

A dark, textured background with a vertical light streak. The texture appears to be a fine, vertical ribbing or grain, possibly from a book cover or a piece of fabric. A bright, vertical line of light runs down the center, creating a strong contrast with the dark, mottled background. The light streak has a slightly irregular, organic feel, as if it's a highlight on a surface. The overall effect is one of depth and texture, with the light drawing the eye towards the center.
